

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

LONDON.

P R E F A C E .

HAVING completed the third volume of the series, I beg to return my grateful thanks to Miss Louisa Ince, J. R. David Tyssen, F.S.A., Carington Bowles Bowles, J.P., I. Meyer, J.P., and Robert Hovenden, for kindly presenting Illustrations to this volume.

By desire, this and the future volumes will be published by private subscription.

The next volume will contain the important Inscriptions from the Churches and Churchyards in the City of London.

It will greatly facilitate the issue of the remaining volumes if those gentlemen who have not already given in their names for the whole series will do so as early as possible.

INTRODUCTION.

S. Mary's Church, Hornsey.

THE Church of S. Mary consists of a nave, chancel, aisles and galleries. The old church was built, about the year 1500, from the ruins of the fortress in the Bishop's Park. It was a plain structure, with an embattled tower at the west end. It was rebuilt in 1832, except the tower.

The earliest date of the parish register is 1653. The churchyard is kept in decent order, many of the tombstones having been unearthed by the present rector, who takes a pride in making the ground a credit to his church.

The following memorial windows are of stained glass :—

In piam memoriam

Highgate Chapel Burial Ground.

THIS chapel, which was dedicated to S. Michael, was founded as a chapel-of-ease to the church at Hornsey, prior to 1565, when Grindel, Bishop of London, as lord of the manor of Hornsey and proprietor of the chapel, granted it to Sir Roger Cholmeley, late Lord Chief Justice, with gardens, orchards, and two acres of land. The chapel was taken down in 1833.

In 1866 a new chapel was erected, attached to the grammar school, in the crypt of which the tomb of S. T. Coleridge, the poet, is enclosed.

Extracts from the register :—

Honble. Dna. Judith Platt, uxor Hugonis Platt, militis sepult.
Jan. 28, 1635, relict of Sir Hugh Platt, author of "The Garden of Eden," "The Jewel-house of Art and Nature," and other curious works.

William, son of Hester, Lady Manneringe, and Sir William Manneringe, Knt., buried July 29, 1646.

Sir Richard Springnell, Bart., buried January 19, 1658.

Sir William Springnell, Bart., buried September 8, 1691.

Sir John Wollaston, Knt., buried in the chancel, April 20, 1658. He founded, in 1658, by bequest, almshouses for six poor women, and endowed them with a rent-charge of £18 10s.

Charlotte, daughter of Sir John Pettis, buried May 28, 1678.

Sir Francis Pemberton, buried June 15, 1699, and Dame Ann, his wife, April 15, 1731.

Mr. John Shower, of the parish of Stoke Newington, buried July 5, 1715.

Sir Jeremy Topp, Bart., of Bremore, Hants, buried in the churchyard, 1733.

The Rev. John Doughty, buried July 1, 1768.

Edward Pauncefort, Esq., buried in 1723. In 1705 he ordered the communion plate to be double gilt at his own charge.

William Bridges, Esq., in 1706 gave a new clock and surplice, and a common prayer book to the chapel.

Sir Edward Gould, in June, 1712, gave a velvet pulpit cloth, and a cushion with a gold fringe.

Mr. William Thatcher, senior, in 1713, gave a silver plate to collect the sacramental money in, and a surplice.

Sir William Ashurst, in 1717, bought the organ, three branches, and two dozen sconces for the pews.

Lady Pritchard gave by will 50s. yearly for ever, to be distributed by the minister of the chapel to ten poor old maids of the Hamlet of Highgate, or widows when no old maids are to be found.

The Lady Moyer, in 1720, gave the velvet cloth to the communion table.

The Lady Child gave two common prayer books bound in velvet for the altar.

Mr. John Scoppins gave a suite of fine damask linen for the altar.

Mr. Edward Stanton paved the altar with black and white marble at his own cost.

The communion plate were two silver flagons given by Mrs. Savage, widow, one side chalice and cover, and one silver plate for the bread.

The only brass in this chapel was one to the memory of Mrs. Jaques.

All Saints' Church, Tottenham.

THIS church, which is dedicated to All Saints, stands about a quarter of a mile west of the high road, and is in the later style of English architecture, with a square embattled and ivy mantled tower. On the summit was formerly a lofty wooden cross (whence, according to some, the adjunct to the name of the village), which was destroyed during the civil war.

At the east end of the south aisle is a vestry of circular form, surmounted by a dome, erected in 1696 by Lord Henry Colerane, and repaired in 1790. Underneath this is the family vault. The eastern window, divided into eight compartments, and containing representations of the Evangelists and some of the Prophets in fine old painted glass, was given to the parish in 1807 by John Eardley Wilmot, Esq. The font is curious and of great antiquity. Many ancient monuments adorn the interior, of which one in white marble, to the memory of the family of Sir Robert Barkham, is worthy of notice ; also one to the Candler family, which is finely carved.

There are several brasses in this church. One to John Burrough, his wife, and three children ; to Lady Irby and her three children ; to the Hymingham Family ; to Thomas Wheler ; to Jefrye Walkdine ; and one to Dorcas Martin.

Extracts from the register :—

Hugh Hare, buried March 1, 1706-7. Father of the last Lord Colerane.

The Right Hon. Henry Lord Colerane, buried July 15, 1708.

The Hon. Dowager Lady Colerane, aged 90 years, buried January 19, 1731-2.

The Right Hon. Henry Lord Colerane, August 10th, buried the 24th, 1749. The last Lord Colerane of this family.

Sir George Rivers, Bart., buried August 9, 1734.

The Rev. Samuel Hardy, buried December 17th, 1793, aged 73 years.

William Wimpen, clerk of the parish, buried January 11, 1687.

George Thompson, clerk and master of the grammar school, 50 years old, was buried November 21, 1739.

Hugh Smithson, Esq., buried in the side chancel, September 13, 1740.

The Hon. Constantine Smithson was buried April 28, 1726.

Mr. Anthony Smithson, son of Hugh Smithson, buried April 7, 1722.

Mrs. Elizabeth Husbands was buried April, 1754, in the middle chancel, from whose executor was demanded and received £4 10s., viz.—£4 for the breaking up the ground in my said middle chancel, and 10s. for performing the service on the occasion, and this from a full conviction that the register of this parish gave me an undoubted right to demand and receive the said fees. [This was written by the then Vicar of Tottenham.]

Mr. Barkham Coney was buried in Sir Robert Barkham's vault, April 16, 1720.

Madam Jane Barkham buried November 8, 1724.

Madam Letia Beauchamp was buried in the church, March 21, 1719.

Thomas Beauchamp, gent., buried June 23, 1724.

William, son of Sir William Beauchamp, proctor (by Jane, his wife), buried May 2, 1759.

Thomas Desdate, M.D., was buried in the chancel, May 8, 1727.

Mrs. Constantia Portman was buried in Lord Colerane's vault, June 2, 1727.

Mrs. Anne Morelli was buried August 28, 1720.

Mrs. de Lay, a French gentlewoman, buried September 9, 1720.

Mrs. Rebecca Mossett was buried November 16, 1720, who had a funeral sermon.

Mr. Stephen Jennings, buried August 16, 1722.

Stephen Jennings, Esq., buried November 13, 1724.

Anne Maxwell, wife of the Rev. Francis Kelly Maxwell, buried November 5, 1760.

Christ Church, Southgate.

CHURIST CHURCH is a fine structure, consisting of nave, chancel and aisles. The tower contains a fine peal of bells.

There are in the church the following memorial windows :—

In memory of Vincent Figgins, who died Dec^r. XXI., MDCCCLX., aged LIII.
By his affectionate wife Rosanna.

Conjugis memoriam
A. M. BRADLEY, Sep. 7, 1866.

who died Oct. 18, 1865.
Them that sleep in Jesus will God bring with Him.

In memory of JOHN LUTWYCHE, eldest son of John and Agnes George, died May 7, 1842, aged 7 years. Also Agnes Elfrida, their only daughter, died Feb. 4, 1869, aged 30 years. By their affectionate brother Arthur.

Sacred to her Memory.

LETITIA CATHARINE HAYES, widow of the Rev. Henry Horace Hayes, who died at Lynton in Devonshire, on the 6th of Nov., 1865. She was a noble and loving woman who throughout her life exercised a wonderful influence on all around her. This window is dedicated to her memory by her Brother, Sir John L. M. Lawrence, Bart., to whom she is endeared by the recollections of a lifetime.

In the churchyard formerly stood a chapel which was built, in 1615, at the sole expense of Sir John Weld. It was 42 feet long by 20 feet broad, and was taken down in 1860. It was endowed with an estate in Essex, called Orsett.

Extracts from the register :—

Sir John Weld, of the Chapel Ward, buried February, 1622.

Rogessa Draper, daughter of Thomas Draper, was buried in the vault at the chappell, October 16, 1652.

Sarah Henricus, buried June 16, 1695.

Rev. T. Hinton, buried 1755.

George Huxley, Esq., buried 1654.

S. James's Church, Friern Barnet.

THE Church of S. James was restored and enlarged in 1853. It is in the Norman, Gothic, and early English style, and consists of tower, nave, chancel, and south aisle.

The arch of the door is circular, and has a zigzag moulding enclosing some ornaments of quatrefoils.

The earliest date of the parish register is 1674.

John Dogget, John Prat, William Long and Thomas Tyrrey, gave four kyen to the Church of Barnet for a lamp for ever.

The following shield of arms is on a ledger stone at the south-east corner of the churchyard, the tomb being much mutilated :—

Arms: Lozenge . . . and . . . a canton ermine.

Crest: A portcullis chained.

All Saints' Church, Edmonton.

THIS church is a Gothic structure, built of hewn stone, flints and pebbles. It has but few pretensions to architectural beauty, it is a large and lofty building, consisting of a nave, chancel and north aisle.

The aisle is separated from the body of the church by a row of octangular pillars, with pointed arches springing from them, which support the roof.

On the north side, and at the west end, are galleries and an organ chamber.

At the west end of the church is a square embattled tower upwards of fifty feet high, containing eight bells, beside the curfew or saints' bell.

In the south-east corner of the nave is a monument with a depressed Gothic arch, richly ornamented with foliage, supposed to have been erected to the memory of John Kirton, the fourth son in descent from Alace Kirton, who died in 1362.

In the chancel is a memorial window to the glory of God and in memory of Edward Busk, of Ford's Grove, Esq., the offering of many who knew his worth, A.D. 1868.

Extracts from the register :—

Nicholas Boone, March 19, 1557.

Elizabeth Boone, March 29, 1558.

Francis Vere, fil Comitum Oxfordiac sepult. September 12, 1587, a child of Edward Earl of Oxford, who married Lord Burleigh's daughter.

Sir Philip Matthews, Bart., December 7, 1680.

The Hon. Sarah Lady Viscountess Corbett, of Linslade, June 10, 1682.

Sir Henry Bathurst, Knt., May 5, 1695.

Sir Charles Lee, Knt., October 15, 1700.

Sir Jeremiah Sambrooke, Bart., January 4, 1705.

Sir Jeremy Vanacher Sambrooke, Bart, July 13, 1740.

Dr. Thomas Gill, M.D., July 9, 1714.

Elizabeth Harley, Countess Dowager of Oxford and Mortimer, June 25, 1737.

Sir Thomas Birch, March 22, 1757.

Sir Atwell Lake, Bart., April 28, 1760.

Charles Molly, July 20, 1767.

James Barclay, June 20, 1771.

James Vere, September 9, 1779.

Sir James Lake, Bart., May 4, 1807.

S. Andrew's Church, Enfield

THIS church is in the centre of the town, built chiefly of flints and rubble stone, but the north wall, with its buttresses, is entirely of brick, the whole being coated over with cement. The style of architecture is mixed. The interior consists of a chancel, nave and two aisles ; separated by clustered columns and pointed arches. At the west end of the church is a square embattled tower, containing a peal of bells. The church contains many ancient and several splendid monuments, among which are the tombs and effigies of Sir Nicholas Raynton and his lady; an altar tomb to the memory of Joyce, Lady Tiptoft (1446), mother of the talented Earl of Worcester; a handsome monument of Italian veined marble to Thomas Stringer, Esq., and various others.

In enlarging the arch which separates the chancel from the nave, a rude painting of the Resurrection, in six compartments, was removed; and in opening a vault, in 1829, some coffins in the shape of the human frame were discovered.

Extracts from the register :—

Sir Robert Wroth, January 28, 1605-6.

The Lady Anne, wife of Sir H. Wroth, November 9, 1667.

The Right Hon. Wilmot Vaughan, Earl of Lisburne, died May 6, 1820, and was buried in the family vault in the church.

S. Mary's Church, Hadley.

THIS church is dedicated to S. Mary. It consists of a chancel, nave, two aisles and two transepts, the aisles being separated from the nave by depressed arches and clustered pillars. At the west end is a square tower of flint, with stone quoins, on the front of which is the date, 1494, accompanied by the device of a rose and a wing, the cognisance, it is probable, of either the abbey or one of the abbots of Walden. At the top of the tower is an iron beacon, which was blown down by the high wind on January 1, 1779, when it was repaired and replaced.

It was thoroughly restored, in 1848-9, by Mr. Street, and during the restoration numerous small brasses were brought to light. In 1855 the south porch was rebuilt by the Rev. George Procter, D.D., the rector, in memory of his only son, the Rev. George Henry Proctor, M.A.

The following memorial windows are in the church :—

The east window, by Warrington, to

To her Creator

Her piety and devotion were unfeigned and exalted
To her fellow creatures
Her affection and benevolence were universal
Truth, plainness, and sincerity, were ever her delight
To her husband, she was most tender and indulgent
And to the distressed so compassionate and generous a benefactor

That when the ear heard her then it blessed her and when the eye saw her, it gave witness to her because she delivered the poor that cried, and the fatherless, and such as had none to help
The blessing of those that were ready to perish came upon her :

and she caused the widdow's heart to sing for joy
What ever joys above we wish to know,
Those now she feels, who liv'd so well below :
Where virtues such as her's attend on thee
Fear not to die, thou'llt be as blest as shee
Near her lie buried five of her children

Instead of high encomiums on y^e Dear Departed
. tho many she deserv'd.
These Truths instructive treasure in thy head.
Virtue alone is Happiness on Earth
In Heav'n Blifs eternal : seraphic mirth :
Christ's vast Redemption Consecrates y^e Just Obey the Gospel in His Mercy trust
To die is common to All : but to die Gracefully is Peculiar to the Virtuous.
Ah ! may the Living rightly think and Say God mend us.

Here Reader pause—and think as you pass by Though now alive, yet shortly you must die :
As I am now, so you ere long will be.
Oh then prepare for death to follow me :
In spite of death, the Actions of the just
Will still smell sweet and blossom in the Dust Praises on Tombs are Trifles vainly spent
'Tis Virtue rears the noblest Monument.

Who, surmounting with Fortitude
in the Dawn of his career, Difficulties and Trials
of no ordinary Magnitude
rose to Eminence in his Profession, and gathered in Due Season the fair Fruits of Probity and Industry.
As he was firm and unshaken in Adversity,
so was he humble and unassuming in Prosperity.

Amongst the many Christian Virtues which distinguished and adorned his Character Charity was most conspicuous.

As a Father, as a Husband,
his Tenderness and Affection,
if ever equalled

Reader

Contemplate and adore the ways of Providence !
While thou beholdest

A youthful Ardour rising into Action : & female Virtue hastning to Maturity : and blooming Innocence with fairest Promises : & tender Infancy's unfulfilled purity : all prematurely summoned to the Grave, thence to be carried to the Realms of Bliss.
They are dead, and their Life is hid with Christ in God :

“ But when Christ, our Life, shall appear, then shall they also appear with him in glory.”—Col. iii. 4, 5.

How blessed the place of that abode,
Where Saints and Angels dwell with God ;
Where God the great Redeemer's grace,
Creates a Heav'n thro all the place.
Dear Lord vouchsafe to me to know,
A little of that Heav'n below,
For joys resembling them above.

In hope of a Blessed Resurrection Near this Place are deposited the Mortal Remains of
M^{rs} ELIZABETH WARREN, Second daughter of D. W. Steers of Nightingale Hall in this Parish
Who exchanged this Life for a Better
The 14 day of July in the year of our Lord 1771,
Aged 26 years.
During which short space she had discharged
In a exemplary manner
The several important duties
Of an obedient child, an affectionate Wife and Most tender Mother
And having attain'd the highest Degree
Of earthly Perfection,
By the Constant Practise of every Virtue
Which adorns a Christian.
Heaven!
To Reward such Excellence
Spared her the Severe Tryal of a Tedious parting
From those she dearly loved
And snatched her in a moment
To Eternity!
Call round her Tomb each Object of Desire
Each purer Frame, inform'd with purer Fire.
Bid her be all that cheers or softens Life,
The tender Sister, Daughter, Friend and Wife.
Bid her be all that makes Mankind adore,
Then view this Marble and be vain no more.

Here lies entombed a dear lamented wife,
Early in bloom of youth depriv'd of Life,
Whose mind of every Virtue was possessed,
That fondest wish could frame to make him bless'd

Who was her husband thus essays
To give departed worth deserved praise.
Taught with each charm to captivate the heart
Or soothe life's sorrows or its joys impart ;
By deep decline consumed, alas ! she fell,
Her friends' and husband's grief these faintly tell
In silence left to mourn and vent their woe,
As deepest streams' least murmur when they flow.
Calm she resign'd to Him that soul He gave,
Whose dread command shall raise her from the grave
To life we humbly hope on that blest shore,
Where sickness, pain, or death afflict no more.

Sacrum Sepulchrum Violatum.

A Minute pause! if Parents dear,
Our parent pains attentive hear :
The Child in-earth'd beneath this sod,
Was call'd from hence to meet his God.
Sweet Infant Cherub, Dearest Boy,
Thy Parents' hope, their care and joy
Could we have wav'd the firm Decree
We still should have been blest with thee
Our minds from heaven drew relief
That sooth'd the pangs of ardent grief ;
"Till some vile, hired, cruel slave
Our Infant stole from out its grave.

Oh ! then what sorrow fill'd each mind,
To know the Child, that was consign'd
To earth, should thus be torn away
A sacrilegious Ruffian's prey.
By friendly aid, in searching round
Our Infant for Dissection found.
'Twas rescued from remorseless skill,
Then Gratitude our minds did fill.
Entomb'd again in sacred ground,
To wait the heav'nly Trumpet's sound
Then may he wake with sweet surprise,
And in his Saviour's Image rise.

Transgression and unrighteousness
This Stone is graven to express
Tho in our Life the Law we eyed
Deep in its Debt we both have died
Not Peru's Golden Mines can pay
Nor Rome dissolve one Debt that Day
Nor fallen Man before the Throne
Plead any merit of his own
Free grace shall then our lips confess
And triumph in Christ's Righteousness

Minister of S^t. Peter's, De-Beauvoir Sq^r., and late Incumbent of Southgate,
who departed this life
April 6th 1858,
in the 42nd year of his age.

His attachment to the distinguishing doctrines of the Gospel was enlightened ardent and stedfast ; the cross of Christ was his hope, his life, his Glory, and the sincerity and power of his faith were evinced by a life of cheerful obedience to his God and Saviour ; his character was distinguished by sound practical wisdom, combined with Christian simplicity and he secured the esteem of a numerous circle of Friends, both in Public and Private. The summons for his removal from Earth came suddenly, but it found him waiting for the coming of his Lord, and he died looking for that blessed hope, and the glorious appearing of the great God, and our Saviour
Jesus Christ.

Nature sees the body dead ;
Faith beholds the spirit fled :
Nature never sees thee more ;
Faith but sees thee gone before.

Died Feb 11 : A.D. 1826 : Æt 71

Mild and unaffected in his manners ;
sincere and stedfast in his friendships,
courteous and charitable towards all men.

To the poor not a benefactor only,
but a friend and a father,

with a liberality which had its sources
in true compassion and religious principles.

He employed the talent intrusted to him to the glory of God and the good of mankind.

As a testimony of affectionate regret,
and with the hope that so excellent an example here recorded

may not be unfruitful,

His afflicted family have erected this imperfect memorial of his many Christian virtues.

In affectionate Remembrance of MARY ANNE KEIR,
Daughter of William Burgess, Esq^r., of Enfield, in the County of Middlesex,
And of Tiverton in the County of Devon, Wife of John Keir, youngest and sole surviving Son of the late James Francis Edward Keir, Of Kinmonth and West Rhynd, in the County of Perth ;

They had two children: the first a daughter, was born
At Waltham Cross, Chesunt, in the county of Hertford,
On Tuesday the 16th of December 1817 ; the second a son was born in Green Street, Enfield, on the 20th day of May And died on the 30th of August 1820.
His Blessed Mother after her confinement fell into a decline which she bore with the most pious resignation and expired on the 30th of August, 1820, in the 36 year of her age, most affectionately beloved and sincerely lamented

Her remains with those of her infant

Were entombed in her father's vault at Enfield.

Her afflicted Husband, bowing with submission to the Divine Will, gratefully cherishes the surviving pledge
Of their union spared to him as a solace for her loss.

Grac'd with each virtue, cherish'd and admir'd,

Not to the World's vain praises she aspir'd ;

Like the meek faint who heard the Lord's behest,
She chose the good part and her choice was blest.
Let resignation then repress the sigh,
That worth and loveliness so soon should die ;
In Heaven's own time her spirit took its flight,
With kindred angels to the realms of light.

Arms : A cross engrailed sable between four roses a crescent for difference, impaling argent a fess lozenge or and azure between three mascles azure within a bordure of the last charged with eight bezants.

Crest : A sinister arm in armour embowed couped at the shoulder holding a dagger proper.

Sacred to the Memory of RICHMOND,
Eldest Son of Peter Moore, Esq, Lord of this Manor,
and of Sarah, Daughter of Colonel Richmond Webb,

Who,
by the indulgence of nature,
united such excellence of Disposition and such powers of Intellect

As
while they exhibited Him to his own family, in the valuable Characters of a dutiful and endearing Son,
a tender and affectionate Brother, Obtained for Him also by this best pledge of future and more diffused utility the respect and esteem of all who knew him.
Thus regarded while living he died much lamented.
October 14th 1796 in the 21st Year of his Age.
While Grief by Patience is withstood,
Nature must pour her tear,
Even Virtue weeps when fall the Good,
And heaves a Sigh sincere.

Arms of Cottrell.

Sacred to the Memory of
the Rev^d CLEMENT DOTTRELL.

Rector of North Waltham in Hampshire, who died in London after a few days Illness on the 25th of July 1714 in the 42nd year of his Age.
Active benevolence and Christian charity have embalmed him in the hearts of many, whose welfare he anxiously promoted, his chief Inquietude on Earth was the happiness of his Family, and of her,
who now offers this tribute of affection to his Memory.
May the God of all comfort, who has been fit to relieve that union, in which her every Earthly hope was centered, vouchsafe to his afflicted Widow resignation and heavenly hope, till they shall be reunited thro' the merits of that Saviour, in whose presence she trusts he now for ever rejoices.

He left Issue 5 Sons and a Daughter born after his Decese.

In a Vault within this Church are deposited the remains of CATHERINE PENNANT, Youngest daughter of David Pennant, Esq;
Of Downing in Flintshire.

Near to this spot
are deposited the Remains of FRANCIS BARONNEAU, Esq.
of New Lodge, in this County,
who died on the 13th of December
A.D. 1812,

Aged 70 years.

His remembrance is deeply engraved on the hearts of all who were in any degree connected with him.
Every Christian and every social duty
he felt warmly,
and zealously endeavoured to perform.

His life was beneficent and useful,
and though his death might by his fellow mortals be accounted sudden,
it had long been to him the subject of daily contemplation.

This simple and unadorned tribute of affection to his memory is dedicated by a thorough knowledge of his heart, and the sincerest love and veneration for his virtues.

of Jermyn Street, S^t James and of Hadley Midd^s.
Who died at Hadley the 13th of June 1848,
in the 90th year of her age.
Dearest of mothers best of friends farewell !
May this plain stone a daughter's affection tell,
Through life thy virtues were her joy and pride,
In death her best example and her guide.

Sacred also to the Memory of ANN,
Eldest daughter of the above S and Ann Harman, who died the 24th of November 1861,
in the 79th year of her age.
Tho' I have seen thy form depart,
For ever from thy sister's eye,
I hold thee in mine inmost heart ;
There, there, at least thou cans't not die.
